

Dear Colleagues:

Pittsburgh Glass Center will be one of the hottest spots during Kennywood Education Days.

Don't expect your typical lesson in science. You'll see heat-defying acts of art and learn about the science, art and history of glass.

- Watch artists twist and twirl at a fiery torch as they create intricate sculptures of glass art.
- Talk about the science of glass and why gravity is a glassblowers best friend.
- Hear historic facts that prove that Pittsburgh was almost known as the "Glass City" instead of the "Steel City."

One of the top glass facilities in the U.S., Pittsburgh Glass Center is a state-of-the-art glass studio and gallery that attracts glass artists from around the world. Join us for Kennywood Education Days and then schedule a tour of our facility where you will see live glass blowing demonstrations and a contemporary glass art exhibition.

We'll see you there!
